HOW YOU CAN GET INVOLVED

If you would like to find out more about volunteering opportunities at the Museum, speak to one of the team here today or telephone the museum on 01667 460466. We'd be delighted to answer your questions.

There are a number of areas you can volunteer in depending what you enjoy. There is a department to suit everyone; some have flexible times and others require a set weekly morning or afternoon.

- Research
- Conservation
- Front of house (meeting people)
- Education assistance
- Operating MODES
- Library

All areas would welcome new members and no previous experience is required as training is provided.

VOLUNTEER BENEFITS

Volunteering with The Highlanders' Museum comes with our grateful thanks.

You are guaranteed the following:

- The chance to learn more about our Highland Heritage.
- The chance to meet varied and interesting people.
- The opportunity to develop new skills and enhance existing ones.
- Free tea and coffee.
- 10% Discount in the shop.

Our members of staff are user friendly and very welcoming and would love to hear from you.

They are fully committed to delivering a first class service to our clients and visitors. They are proud to uphold the history of The Highland Warriors here at Fort George.

About The Highlanders' Museum

At The Highlanders Museum, we are fully committed to preserving and sharing the legacy of the antecedent regiments and the modern British Army for future generations. The museum is located in the heart of Fort George, an ancient monument looked after by our partners, Historic Scotland. This remains a working barracks with the 3rd Battalion The Royal Regiment of Scotland in residence.

Our collection consists of artefacts and items from the Seaforth Highlanders (72nd & 78th Regiments of Foot), the Queens Own Cameron Highlanders (79th Regiment of Foot), the Queens Own Highlanders (Seaforth & Camerons), the Lovat Scouts, The Highlanders and the Royal Regiment of Scotland.

These items include regimental silver, firearms and edged weapons, fine examples of portraiture, uniform and medals. The Chairman and Trustees are responsible for the collection and the Board of Directors for the administration of the business.
