

Submissions are invited for a forthcoming conference on Scottish military history from 1745 to the present day, to be held at Fort George on 28th and 29th June.

The conference, jointly run by the Highlanders' Museum and the UHI Centre for History, will be open to papers on all aspects of this topic. Papers may also be accepted for a concurrent panel on other aspects of British military history, covering the same timeframe.

If you are interested in submitting a paper, or simply wish to attend, please return the attached form to:
